

The stories behind a life are worth passing on.

43%

of Americans 50+ named life lessons and values among their most important legacies.

Edward Jones / Age Wave, 2021

51%

of surveyed Protestant senior pastors were very concerned about younger Christians' financial support.

Barna, 2023 report

greater likelihood of giving among children whose parents discussed giving with them.

Different studies: legacy preferences, pastor concern and an association. None proves our product works.

Time Tapestry

Make room for the stories that shaped a life.

A Christian legacy gift that helps families pass on faith, character and generosity through personal stories.

- 01 Answer in your own time.
Four sections. Voice, video or typing.
- 02 Choose what you share.
Saved takes and storyteller approval.
- 03 Give them a reason to return.
A story collection, postcards and replies.

Families are the users. Churches and organizations are potential sponsors to validate in a pilot.

The storyteller keeps the final say.

Four focused conversations

- 01 Kindness I received
- 02 Faith and values I lived
- 03 Generosity I practiced
- 04 What I hope you carry

Replay. Rerecord. Review. Approve.

Actual local collection screen with synthetic test content. Real-device capture still needs validation.

Connection should not depend on a shared calendar.

A FAMILIAR BEHAVIOR

Record when you can. Watch and respond later.

A PAID CATEGORY

Storyworth + Remento

Family storytelling already has paid offers.

OUR FOCUS TO TEST

Time Tapestry

Christian legacy, tangible encouragement and a reply.

These establish an analogy and an adjacent category. Completion, willingness to pay and sponsorship remain to test.

The first card opens the whole story.

Later cards bring a chapter back into everyday life, with the storyteller’s own encouragement.

Four approved chapter cards. All content available upfront. Print, delivery and email need live provider checks.

Relationships and character. Generosity made personal.

PROPOSED PILOT

1 church. 10 families.

Test whether families finish, return and respond, and whether a church will sponsor the next group.

WHAT WE WOULD MEASURE

Interviews finished and stories approved

Meaningful family conversations and replies

Paid demand or a concrete sponsor commitment

Time, support and delivery cost per family

Build evidence: 55 automated tests and a local browser journey passed. No pilot outcomes or donation lift claimed.

AI helps prepare the story.

Presentation

One real, understandable journey

Five criteria, each worth 20%. Evidence over promises. Time Tapestry, editable project name.

“Why not interview your parent yourself?”

We encourage that. The gap we are testing is follow-through when life gets in the way.

A place to start	Control over the story	A reason to return
Thoughtful prompts focused on lived values.	Answer over time, choose takes and approve.	A complete gift, physical reminders and replies.

A simpler question sheet is a credible alternative. The pilot should test whether this experience adds value.

The category exists. Our demand is still to test.

BEFORE THE FINAL RECORDING

Kaelyn: live voice, transcription, phone recording and cloud playback.

Tayloe: approved logo, consenting story and editorial review.

Together: provider tests and a timed rehearsal.
